Six hundred North Korean officers recently returned to North Korea after completing a six-months' political training course at the former Japanese Kenkoku University in Changchun (125-20, 43-53) Manchuria, are now serving as a Chinese Communist political staff school. Eighty of these officers are assigned to Hoeryong (129-45, 42-26) (EB 6298) Military Academy. The Chinese Communist instructors at the Changchun school gave a pro-Chinese Communist pattern to all their lectures; the principal course was entitled "Practical Interpretation of Marxism for Asiatics after World War II." Seventeen Soviet instructors at the school taught the history of the Russian Bolshevik Party and Current Events.
